C.B. Willis, Esq.,
[REDACTED]

Dear Mr. Willis,

I am sorry I had not time to ring you up today as I promised. I did ring you at 5.40 p.m. but there was no reply, however, I ~~have~~ not forgotten that I promised to put you in touch with the people in Clapham whom I already know to be sympathisers. The best man is Martin Molony, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] He was prominent in the old days, is influential and knows practically everybody useful for our cause in the area of Clapham. I suggest you get in touch with him as soon as you can to arrange for a meeting some night next week at which the Hon. Secretary and I would attend. It would be sufficient if you got together between a dozen and two dozen people provided they are earnest workers and would form the nucleus of the branch. Officers of the branch would be elected from among these.

I have a further list of people in the [REDACTED] which I shall send along later but Martin Molony would probably know all the most useful people himself. I shall ring him tomorrow and tell him about yourself and your brother. When the first meeting is arranged we will bring down all the literature and membership forms necessary. It should ~~not~~ be too difficult to collect the ~~collect-the~~ number necessary in [REDACTED] as it was a stronghold in the old days.

Yours faithfully,

Hon. Assistant Secretary of the Anti-Partition of Ireland League.
